Hit Consumer Vault

Loot City Firms

An estimated $448 was taken from Consumers Fuel & Elevator and about $350 damage done to the building of Crowe-Gulde Cement Company in burglaries Monday morning.

About $10 was taken from the Coke machine at Crowe-Gulde and Canyon Plastics was broken into but nothing was taken.

Narcotics Examining Trial Held

Pending a formal ruling, a 23-year-old actor, charged here with possession of marijuana, remained under $2,500 bond Monday following an examining trial.

Rip Hall McAlpine, of 3433 Elmhurst in South Amarillo, appeared before Justice of the Peace W. A. "Bill" Wilson.

David Griffin and Don Smith, detectives with the Amarillo Police Department testified at the hearing. Bill Dunn, chemist with the Amarillo Bi-City-County Health Unit, also testified.

McAlpine was arrested along with a 19-year-old companion, William Everett LaVene of Boston, Mass., following a narcotics search last Thursday at his plush apartment.

Bond for each was set at $2,500. McAlpine made bond, but LaVene remained in Randall County jail this week.

Confiscated in the narcotics search were several seeds and particles of a substance later analyzed and said to be marijuana. Also found were six different kinds of pills, six to eight capsules containing a knock-out drug, and six hypodermic syringes, according to Mike Hinton, Assistant Criminal District Attorney.

The search culminated more than two months of investigation by the Amarillo police.

Sheriff L. S. (Slim) Johnston said Wednesday that Randall County Junior Livestock Building was also broken into Monday night or early Tuesday morning. A window was broken to gain entry.

A fire was built in the building but nothing was missing. He said he didn't believe this break-in to be connected with the other burglaries Monday morning.

Robert E. Caldwell, general manager of Consumers Elevator said Monday that the window on the south side of the building was broken to gain entry.

The money was taken from a walk-in vault which was believed to be unlocked.

Caldwell said the safe was either left unlocked or the person knew the combination.

He said that the safe was usually locked and that he felt that it was an oversight that it was left open. He said that it could have been one of several employees that forgot to lock the safe.

The burglary was discovered about 7:25 Monday morning when employees opened up, Caldwell said. The police checked the building about 4:30 a.m. so the burglary must have occurred around 5 a.m., according to Chief of Police Calvin Costley.

A pair of boots, gloves and a belt were also taken from Consumers Elevator, Caldwell said. Sheriff Johnston said the (See CITY, Page 6)

Could Reconsider After January 1

BY TROY MARTIN

Judge Carroll Brown cast a tie-breaking vote Monday to redistrict commissioners precincts of Randall County but the ink may not be dry on the new county map before it has to be drawn again.

With just 22 days to serve as Commissioner of Precinct 1, B. R. Jones introduced a lengthy resolution which places three of the county commissioners precincts in South Amarillo. The fourth embraces the remainder of the county and contains all the county's rural roads.

The Jones resolution left his successor, J. L. "Jim" Fletcher living in the same precinct with two other county commissioners.

The vote for the Jones resolution was a tie until the county judge cast the deciding vote. Commissioners Jones and Bill Butler voted for the measure while the two rural commissioners, Clarence Beckman and Glenn Dowlen voted against it.

There was some indication that the matter may be reconsidered after Jan. 1 when Fletcher replaces Jones on the court.

Main objection of rural commissioners to the reapportionment was that one commissioner will represent a precinct with all the county's rural roads.

Judge Brown indicated in casting his vote that a county unit system should be inaugurated and that the entire court should be responsible for the roads in the county.

"The voters will still hold the man who is elected from the precinct with the roads in it responsible for them," argued Commissioner Beckman.

New precinct boundaries will become effective Dec. 17.

Current commissioners will not be affected during their present terms except that they will represent new precincts as designated in the Jones resolution.

For the time being, old precinct lines will be used as road district boundaries and commissioners presently responsible for their maintenance will continue in that responsibility.

Under the Jones redistricting plan, Precinct 2 will include an area bounded by Coulter Drive on the west; Hillside Road on the south; Western Street on the east; and the Potter-Randall County line on the north.

Precinct 3 will be bounded on the west by the Canyon E-Way; 58th Avenue on the South; Eastern Street on the east; and the Potter-Randall County line on the north.

Precinct 4 will be wedge-shaped. It will be bounded on the west by Western; on the east by the Canyon E-Way; and on the north by the Potter-Randall County line.

The remainder of the county, which includes a small portion of South Amarillo, will make up Precinct 1.

Until now the county has been divided into four relatively equal geographic quadrants with a part of each precinct lying within the city limits of Canyon.

It is estimated that there are 22,635 voters in the county.

In the old precincts there were 8,019 in Precinct 1 represented by Jones; 11,156 in Precinct 4 represented by Butler; 1,119 in Precinct 2 represented by

MIKE HINDERS

Canyon 4-H Club Youth To Chicago

Mike Hinders, 17, a senior at Canyon High School, was the northwest Texas representative to the National 4-H Congress held in Chicago last week.

Hinders won the sectional 4-H award in the dairy program to qualify for the trip. His trip was sponsored by the Oliver Corporation.

Mike said Wednesday that he flew to Dallas Thanksgiving Day where he met 39 other students from Texas and one from Connecticut and they traveled by train to Chicago.

The group attended a performance of the Chicago Symphony, toured the Museum of Natural History and the Museum of Science and Industry, Mike said.

They attended the Central Church which is non-denominational, he said, and were given breakfasts and dinners by the GMC corporation, International Harvester, Ford and Firestone.

This was Mike's first trip to Color TV Fund Goes Over Top

The LaCasa Canyon color television fund spilled over the top early Tuesday with $561.75 having been contributed by 34 donors.

A 1969 model color television set was installed at the LaCasa Canyon Convalescent Home Tuesday morning, in plenty of time for color television programs scheduled for the Yule season.

"I had hoped that we could get the set in time to get it installed Saturday," said Troy Martin whose column, The Canyon Rim, pushed the drive to raise funds for the set.

Martin said everything contributed toward the Christmas present for the home was unsolicited. "No one was asked for anything," he said. "People gave from the goodness of their hearts."

"I want to express my appreciation for the gift and to express the thanks of our guests here," said Don York who operates the home.

"They have been high in their praise of the present," he went on. "They have spoken of having friends in the town unknown to them who were willing to do this for them."

O.W. "Bud" Parker supplied the set—a nationally advertised brand—at dealer's cost. Alvin Kuhlman installed the set and has agreed to contribute his services in maintaining it. Both West Texas State Bank and First National Bank cooperated as receiving agents for the fund.

The banks were asked to begin declining contributions early Tuesday when the fund went over the top.

Persons who contributed to the fund include Sam Urban, J.N. Seay, Woody Pond, Blakeley Fargason, Carl Hair, Clayton Heare, A.B. Holt, Paul Lindsey, J.O. Parker, Albert Byars, Clarence Beckman, Sidney (See TV, Page 6)

Volunteer Firemen Win Third

Canyon Volunteer Fire Department has received a third place award of $25 for the State Firemen's and Fire Marshals' Association of Texas for recent efforts in the National Fire Prevention Week contests.

The Canyon department sponsored an open house, school poster contest, a parade, assembly programs for the schools and displayed the National Fire Prevention poster in local businesses.

Cities of all sizes were judged in the contest. First place was won by Borger, second went to Austin and Canyon and Killeen tied for third.

Captain Joe Rice of the department expressed appreciation to local residents, news media, Canyon insurance association and the Canyon Public Schools for promotions during the week.

Racial Tension Key Is Sought

An informal meeting Tuesday of several Student Senators and the dean of student life at West Texas State University resulted in the formation of a steering committee to formulate plans for reducing racial tension at the school.

Dr. T. Paige Carruth met with John Lesly, president of the Student Association, Claudia Stewart, David Scroggins and Phil Cates to discuss possible avenues for opening communication between campus whites and blacks.

A committee consisting of representatives from the school administration, the Student Senate, the Interfraternity Council, the Panhellenic Council, the faculty, Negro fraternities and sorority and students at large, will meet at 3 p.m. Friday as a result of Tuesday's meeting.

Tuesday's meeting was called by Dr. Carruth, after incidents between white and Negro students at recent home basketball games.

Among plans proposed by the group Tuesday was one which would establish a forum open to all students for observations on racial difficulties at WTSU.

WT Student Improving

Jack Holland Wolf, a West Texas State University sophomore from Vega who was injured in a one-car accident Friday night, was improving rapidly Tuesday, according to the nursing supervisor at Northwest Texas Hospital.

He was still listed in serious condition but the supervisor said he might be moved from intensive care Tuesday.

Wolf suffered a compound fracture of the left leg and other injuries about two miles east of Canyon about 9 p.m.

His 1962 model compact car veered off Palo Duro Highway, hit a small tree, jumped a barbed wire fence and overturned several times in a field.

Wolf's Canyon address was given as the Varsity Apartments.

Flu Cases Rise At WT

West Texas State University may be facing a flu epidemic if current trends continue.

Mrs. Louise Mitchell, university nurse, said she treated about 50 students for the flu Monday, a large upsurge from previous weeks.

She said all sick students complained of having come down with the malady over the weekend.

"We've had quite a few, but it's not an epidemic yet," she said.

Dr. T. Paige Carruth, dean of student life, said isolation of sick students and cleanliness in the dormitories would be stressed.

Choir-Band Series Set For Schools

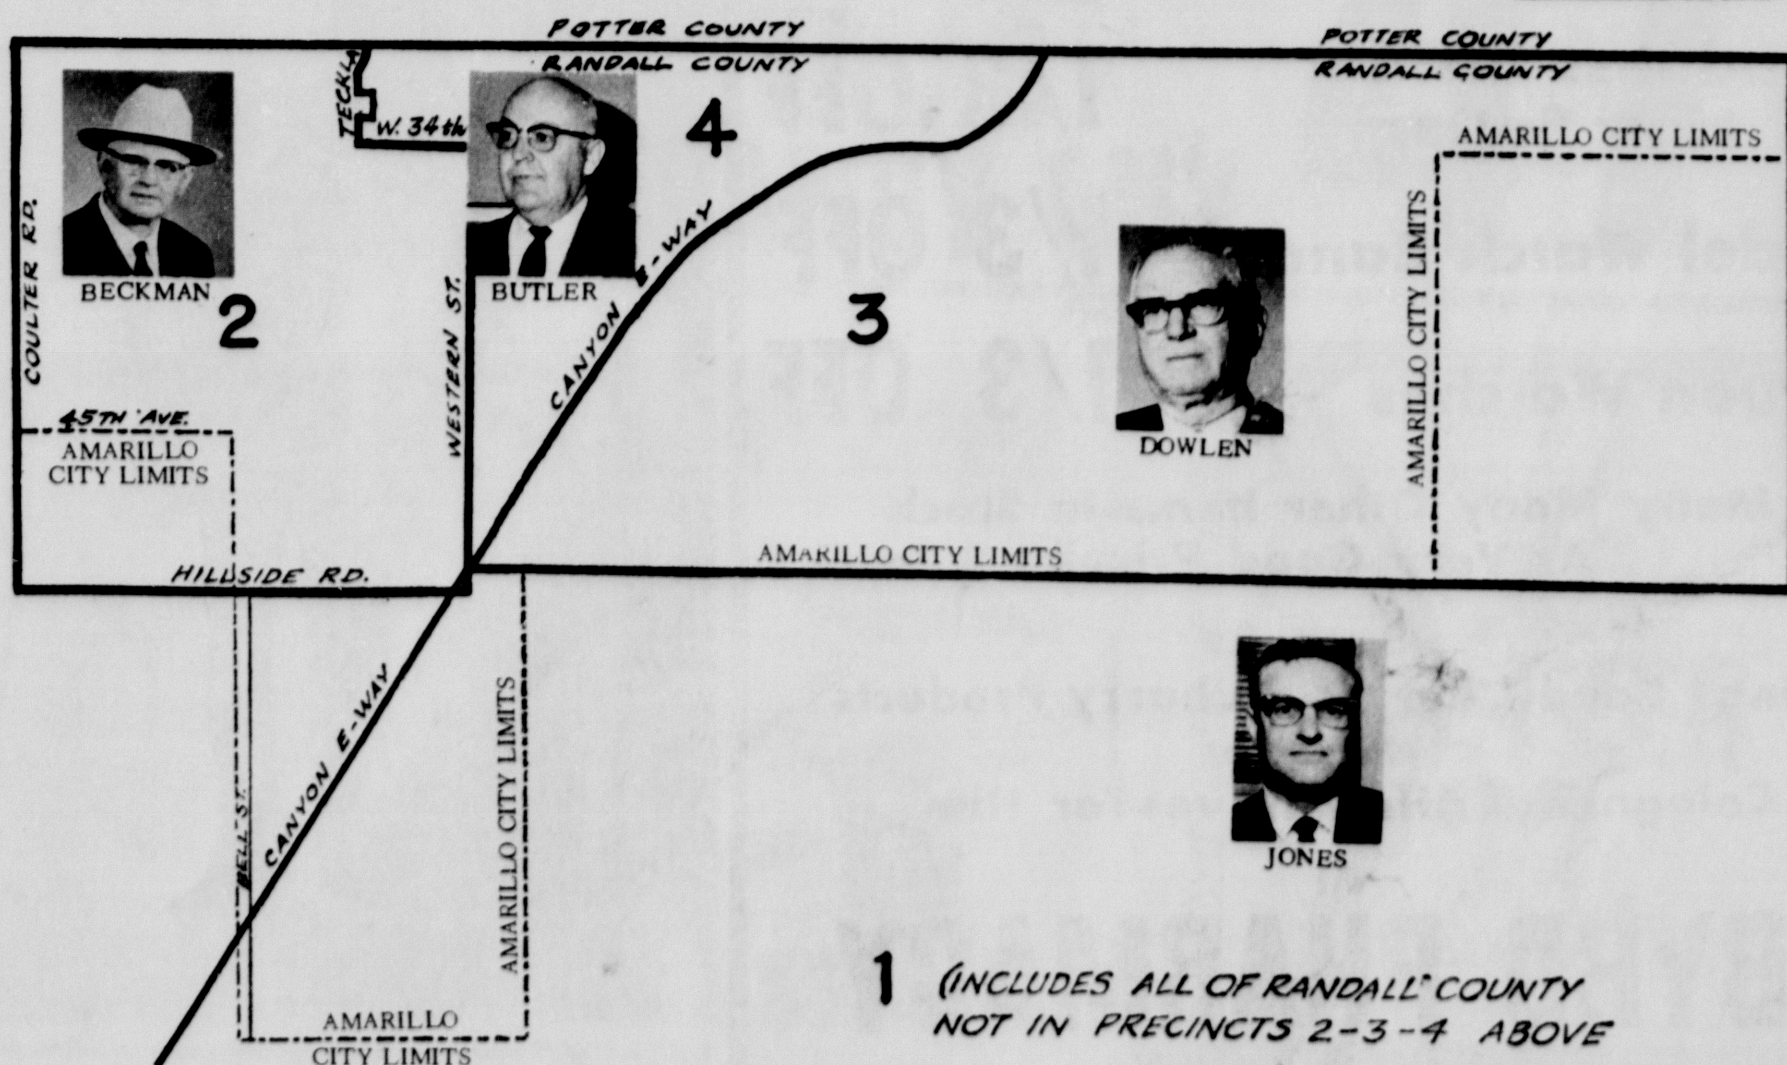

Choir-band concert series for Canyon Public Schools will begin Friday at 7 p.m. with a first grade program at Canyon High School auditorium.

The program will feature all first grade students in a singing of religious music and traditional holiday carols with dramatization. It is open to the public at no charge.

At Canyon Junior High, the Christmas concert will be presented at 7:30 p.m. December 19 in the school gymnasium under the direction of Gene Murray, choir, and Terry Milligan, band.

I am often reminded of the two "men" who took their big "wild and woolly" hats too seriously and left the University to take jobs on a real ranch under a real ranch foreman. A week later we reinstated two tamed and wiser boys.

by Troy Martin FROM THE CANYON RIM

Canyon people responded more than generously to our request that we install the new color television set at LaCasa Canyon by Dec. 15.

As a matter of fact, I made a frantic call to the banks Tuesday morning, Dec. 10, to tell them not to take any more money.

We already had more than we needed. The new set was installed the same day.

When I say Canyon people responded I'm not telling the whole truth. I received one check for $50 from an Amarillo attorney and another for $15 from an Ohio housewife who used to live in Canyon.

I had to send the Ohio check back because it arrived Wednesday and we just didn't need the money anymore. However, it was appreciated just the same.

You know, this sets me to doing some thinking.

Some of the people who spout the most about "love" don't do much about practicing love in a material way.

The hippies and yuppies and long-haired dissenters who say they want to make the world "safe for love", to "humanize" Christianity and make everybody "equal" all too often don't have much to contribute themselves.

It is the people who earn their livelihood by toil of brain or muscle who have the means and the generosity to do something for their fellowman.

I am happy to live among the hard-working, generous people of Canyon. If a better world is shaped, it will be people like these who will do it.

The name of the book from which last Sunday's Sunday Night Movie was taken is "Night of the Tiger."

It was written by Al Dewlen, a talented Amarillo writer who used to be editor of the old Amarillo Times.

The story was of a Buffalo hunter who had had the proceeds of 11 years of work stolen from him. It was a thriller with Chuck Conner.

Incidentally, Dewlen is a cousin of Mrs. Bob Jarrett.

As a friend of Congressman Bob Price, I was happy to see that he did not become the secretary of agriculture.

The Department of Agriculture is a political burial ground. I do not remember a single secretary of agriculture who did not finally become a villain in the eyes of most of the country.

The problems of agriculture are indeed complex. Measures needed to solve agriculture's problems would serve only to anger the consumer.

Let's face it, this country is consumer oriented. No administration will remain long in power if it attempts to solve agriculture's problems at the expense of the consumer.

Personally, I am glad that Bob Price will not be a sacrificial lamb on the GOP altar.

Duck-Geese Count Down

The weekly census of wildlife at Buffalo Lake National Wildlife Refuge, south of Umparger, shows 10,500 Canadian geese and 4,000 ducks at the lake this week, according to a report from Steve Joyner, refuge manager-in-training.

Variance of the count is attributed to ducks resting at the playa lakes of the area until hunters and cold weather drive them to the refuge.

Canyon Art Gallery Was Sudden Idea

BY ELAINE PEEPLES
From trading a pencil box for a penny post-card to a highly successful professional art gallery...

This is the story of Mrs. James P. Cornette's love for art.

Mrs. Cornette who opened the Canyon Art Gallery in 1965, said the gallery was a sudden idea and was not a very well thought out one.

"It just seemed the thing I wanted to do so I borrowed the money and did it," she said.

She said when she opened the gallery she had in mind doing more for area artists than she has been able to do.

"The gallery has developed into one for highly professional work," she said. "It wouldn't be fair to the amateur artists to put their work beside the professional. We have a fine art department at West Texas State University and I'm sorry I can't do more for them," Mrs. Cornette said.

Mrs. Cornette said she had sold from 650 to 700 paintings since the gallery opened.

"I now have regular customers all over the United States and they in turn send others to the gallery," she said.

"People really interested in art, find it," she said. "They know prices and compare prices and although the prices seem high to many individuals, I have been told that they are quite reasonable," Mrs. Cornette said.

The prices are set by the artists and the paintings in the gallery range in price from $15 to $7,500 but the average price is about $250, she said.

She said that relatively few paintings had been sold in Canyon. "Canyon doesn't support the gallery probably because not everyone is interested in art. The proportion might be as high as in any town of this size," she said.

Mrs. Cornette said she enjoyed having people come in and look. "I had a ten year old boy to come in and he looked around and we had such a good time," Mrs. Cornette said.

"I told him to come and bring his friends anytime," Mrs. Cornette said when she started the gallery, she planned to work on a consignment basis but found that to get the work from good artists she must buy it.

She said she didn't show abstract art because "I don't like it," she said. "I enjoy dealing with artists who do conventional work," she said.

"I enjoy a good relationship with customers, artists and other gallery owners," she said. Mrs. Cornette said that other gallery owners referred people to her and that she referred buyers to them.

Mrs. Cornette opened an extension of the gallery in Pampa in March of 1967 and it is managed by Mrs. Robert Johnson.

Some of the policies of the gallery, Mrs. Cornette said, are that she selects the art works she wants for the gallery even from the best artists. "I don't just take anything they want to send," she said.

"I never reduce the price on a painting and would buy back a painting at the price sold from anyone who needs to sell," she said.

Mrs. Cornette said that Dr. Emilio Caballero was largely responsible for her first contacts with professional artists. "Artists don't mind passing on the word," she said.

"Most of the artists are from the Southwest although I will call anywhere in the United States if I see an important article on an artist," she said.

"There is hardly a week goes by that someone doesn't come by with his work," she said.

"The first question a professional artist asks," she said, "is whose work do you show." She also said that the public will go to a show for an amateur artist and buy a few paintings out of consideration for the artist but would not go into a gallery to buy them.

"The next hardest thing to do is to refuse art and the hardest thing to do is to return it," she said.

"If it is a high price work, I can keep it indefinitely," she said. On other work she said she returned the paintings when there hasn't been enough reaction to the work to warrant keeping it.

"One reason I hate to reject work is because it is so hurtful when a person has worked so hard," she said. "I'm not saying that I am an expert on art," she said,

"but I must look at a work as to whether it will sell," she said.

"The hardest thing to do is to get the really good work. A gallery cannot be successful if you don't," she said.

"Once a professional artist has related to a gallery, he is loyal. He would not show near here at all out of consideration for this gallery," she said.

Mrs. Cornette shows the work of four artists that have worked in the White House. They are Palmer Chrisman of Temple, Texas, Woody Gwyn, of Midland, G. Harvey Jones of Austin and Porfirio Salinas of San Antonio.

G. Harvey Jones was a winner in the national art league contest as was another artist who shows at the Gallery, Ramon Fromon of Dallas who is the portrait artists for the gallery.

Woody Gwyn called Mrs. Cornette, she said, and said that he plans to come to Canyon and stay two weeks and to sketches of paintings based on this area. Mrs. Cornette said Gwyn's work sells almost immediately.

The gallery is also the only place that Betsey Clark of Amarillo shows her original work.

Mrs. Cornette said she had a call from one of her artists who said he was giving up his agency in Dallas because he couldn't keep both the Dallas and Canyon galleries supplied. "We have a better selection of his work than his own gallery in Austin," Mrs. Cornette said.

She said she hoped to add a new artist, Jose Vives Atsara of San Antonio in the spring.

Mrs. Cornette said that she tried to paint herself "but I have a better gallery than I do paintings."

"I try but I couldn't dare show my pictures," she said. Mrs. Cornette said she took several art courses from Dr. Caballero who is described by Dr. Cornette "as a Christian gentleman and a genius of a teacher," Mrs. Cornette said.

"The most fun is doing it and I enjoy working with the people," she said.

Other artist who show at the gallery are Dr. Caballero, Genie Davis of Anaheim, Calif., James Ivey Edwards of Amarillo, Frank Gervasi of Marfa, Tex., Ben Carlton Meade of Dallas, Tenkei Tachibana of Tokyo, Japan, Helen Van Buren of San Antonio, Dirk Van Driest of Taos, New Mexico, Carl Smith of Canyon, Roso Stefan of Tucson, Ariz., Olive Vandergriff of Clarendon.

Deceased artists whose paintings are shown in the gallery are Harold Bugbee, of Clarendon, Tex., Frank Hoffman, Victor Higgins and J. H. Sharp, and John Younghunter, all of Taos.

Dr. Cornette assessed his wife's gallery by saying, "She has by far the best gallery in the Southwest United States. She has done this by relationships with good artists. She probably sells more outside of the Panhandle than in it."

Mrs. James P. Cornette stands by a bronze "The Boy and the Bee" which is shown in the Canyon Art Gallery. The bronze was done by the French sculptor Moreau and was first shown in 1886 in the Beaux Arts Salon in Paris.

Our World

By Ann Brown

Americans were appalled--and rightly so--by the record number of deaths on the nation's highways during the Thanksgiving weekend. Almost 800 persons were killed.

We were all saddened by the tragic demise of the 78 miners in Huntington, West Virginia. Our hearts go out to the widows and orphans, and grieving parents.

Murders and assassinations in our country have shocked our lawmakers into passing laws that may eventually prove more detrimental to the nations welfare.

Yet we have another "killer" in our midst that takes more lives and causes more psychic trauma than death-dealing automobiles and murders combined. But because the victims are buried with as little fanfare and publicity as possible, this "killer" goes almost unnoticed.

In Potter County during the three year period of 1965-1967, there were 19 homicides; and 26 persons died in car crashes; but there were 50 suicides.

No other cause of death creates such a backwash of pain, shame, bewilderment, fright, guilt, frustration, and disappointment as does suicide--especially in the case of young children. It is the 10th leading cause of death in the nation.

Self preservation is the first law of life; yet then do people kill themselves? According to reputable authorities, there are few--if any--suicides; there are only attempts; but many of them accidentally succeed.

Twice as many males succeed in killing themselves at every age than females, but twice as many females attempt suicide as males. About 80% of suicides have made previous threats or attempts.

Death is a unique experience, dreaded by most people, yet there are about 300,000 recorded suicide attempts in the U.S. every year. About 25,000 deaths are certified as suicides annually, and authorities estimate another 75,000 suicides are listed as accidents, homicides, or death from natural causes. It is doubtful if anyone really wants to die. However in a temporary crisis of unendurable emotional or physical suffering, death may seem desirable. Everyone has problems, but not everyone can cope with them.

Unable to find a solution to overwhelming problems, or an acceptable outlet for hostilities and frustrations, many persons turn their aggressions toward themselves. Suicidal behavior is a last, desperate cry for help when all other pleas have been ignored.

The suicide is usually trying to communicate with one person in particular, perhaps several. There is one prerequisite to suicide: The victim must forget about everything and everybody but himself. Just one brief pause to peruse the painful impact of his self-inflicted death upon his family, friends, and community--to say nothing of his Creator--would stay his hand.

Dr. Pretzel of the Suicide Prevention Center of Los Angeles, says that suicidal behavior varies all the way from cigarette smoking to self-inflicted bullet wounds. The current publicity campaign to discourage smoking does not seem to be very successful. However, a new Suicide Prevention Center began operation in Amarillo last week; it is the 97th one in the United States.

The Center is staffed by trained volunteers who work around the clock. These civic-minded, humanitarian citizens have dedicated their time and talents to the eradication of the painful blight of suicide from the area. Disturbed persons or their associates may call 376-4251, or write P. O. Box 3044, Amarillo, Texas, for help.

News Brief

"Is Christ In Your Christmas?" will be the theme of a program of songs and readings to be presented Sunday night at the Canyon Assembly of God Church.

The program, which begins at 7 p.m., will be presented by the youth department of the church.

Residents Warned On Holiday Fires

"Fire never takes a holiday --not even at Christmas", warned Canyon Fire Chief Jack Jennings as he reminds residents that Christmas trees and other decorative symbols of the holidays can quickly be transformed into a deadly and destructive fire.

Christmas trees should be freshly cut and kept in water at all times, Chief Jennings urged. Before setting up your tree, saw off at least an inch of the trunk at a steep angle so that it will absorb the maximum amount of water, and then place and keep the tree in water until it is discarded.

Do-it-yourself sprays and coating to "flame-proof" a natural tree are not to be relied on, he warned.

Christmas trees should be placed well away from the fireplace, radiator, stoves and other sources of heat. It should be firmly supported and located so that either upright or fallen it will not block a stairway or doorway, vital escape routes in case of fire.

Lighting equipment should carry the Underwriters' Laboratories (UL) label which indicates that it has met certain safety standards. Tree lights, extension cords, and plugs already on hand should be checked carefully for frayed wires, loose connections and broken sockets.

UL labeled cord sets which have a fuse in the plug are particularly recommended according to Chief Jennings.

Score 116-83

CHS Eagles Rip Tigers

The pesky Canyon Eagles put on first quarter pressure Tuesday night which allowed them to build up a huge lead, a lead which was not threatened throughout the night as they stomped the Slaton Tigers 116 to 83.

The Tigers were dumbfounded by the immediate full-court press utilized by the fast-moving Eagles and consistently lost the ball on rebounds and faulty passing.

The Eagles turned fatal Tiger mistakes into scores as they racked up a 31 to 12 first period lead.

After the initial shock of the press wore off, the Eagles, coached by B.B. Kendrick, concentrated less on keeping the Tigers caged in their own backyard.

Jackie Thrasher, 5' 11" senior, led Canyon's first quarter scoring with 9 points, four of them from the floor.

He was followed by Eagle-eye Lon Conner, 5' 8" senior, who proved to be the Tigers' toughest contender, popping the nets for high point of 27 for the game.

The second quarter saw the Tigers bounce back and come within two points of matching the Eagles in quarter scoring. But, the first period deficit was too much to make up.

The Tigers, backed by the terrific rebounding of Clifford Sumner, poked in 27 points in the second stanza. The Eagles hit 29.

Score at the half stood at 60 to 39.

Canyon, during the first half, stormed the Tigers both on the backboards and the court. Thrasher led Canyon in scoring during the first half with 17. Slaton was led in the first half by R. Washington with 17 also.

Thrasher saw little action during the third quarter. Slaton's Sumner proved his height advantage during the third stanza, too, as he time and again went up and came down with the rebound.

Slaton scored 28 points during the third stanza while Canyon scored 26.

Conner was high point man during the third quarter with 12. He was followed by Steve Butler, 6' 2" senior, with 6. Butler, however, fouled out at the end of the third stanza.

E. Scott was high point during the period for Slaton with 12.

Score at the beginning of final quarter action stood at Canyon 84 and Slaton 65.

Four Slaton starters fouled out early in the fourth quarter. The rebounder, Sumner, was first to go, followed by high point man Washington, Larry Moore and H. Chapple.

Conner of Canyon also fouled out during the fourth quarter. But, the Eagles went on to score 31 points in the final period. Slaton could manage only 17.

The final score was Canyon 116 and Slaton 83.

Conner was Canyon's high point man with 27, followed by Thrasher with 25, Butler with 18, Chris Gerald with 18, Ronnie Hager with 6, Lynn Salmon with 8, Jerry Landrum with 6, Kyle Sunderman with 6 and Bobby Martin with 4.

Bufs Drop First Road Game To Bulldogs 90-74

LAFAYETTE, La.--A three-game winning streak that opened the season for West Texas State's Buffaloes was snapped here Tuesday night by Southwestern Louisiana's Bulldog cage team.

The score was 90 to 74. It was the first road game for the Buffaloes.

All-American hopeful Simmie Hill scored a paltry 13 points but even then surpassed Sonny Blankenship in career scoring with 667 points for sixth place.

Head Coach Dennis Walling said his charges lost the initiative early in the ball game.

"We penetrated their zone real well the first three or four times down the court but failed on easy shots," Walling related. "Simmie missed two layup shots and James McCloud missed two," he went on. "This demoralized our guards. This was pretty well the story of the ball game. We lacked floor leadership."

"The take charge guy just wasn't there."

Hill fouled out with 12:33 to go in the game. He drew three quick fouls in the first half and was on the bench a great deal of the time until the half.

After the Buff ace drew his third foul he had to take the pressure off Southwestern's 6-8 Garland Williams. He scored 11 points in the first half after Hill had been assessed his third fine.

The hosts held a 35-43 lead at half time.

Hill drew his fourth foul as the second half opened. Williams made a three point play and Marv Winkler hit for two points to give the Bulldogs a 50-37 edge.

Pratt Lyons and McCloud led a Buff surge with two buckets each and drew the Buffs within five points of the Bulldogs 52-47.

Then McCloud and Dale Blaut each got their fourth foul and Hill departed with his fifth. The Buffs were no longer in the contest.

The Buffs hit 33 field goals for 77 tries and 8 out of 13 free throws. They took 49 rebounds, 24 assists and were called for 28 personal fouls.

There were 20 turnovers. "That's terrible," commented Walling.

The Bulldogs hit 35 field goals for 64 shots and hit 20 in 30 trips to the charity line. They picked off 44 rebounds, had 21 assists and were charged with 13 fouls.

Boy's Teams Lose Again

All the Canyon Junior High School boy's basketball teams lost their second consecutive games Monday night.

The White teams played LaPlata of Hereford and the Purple teams played Friona.

The 7th grade White lost 25 to 34 with Ed Lair high scorer with 8 points.

The 8th grade White was defeated 30 to 55 with Bill Moore high point man with 8 points.

The 9th grade White lost 33 to 41 with Mike Podzemny high scorer with 17 points.

The White teams will play Boy's Ranch in their next game.

The 7th grade Purple lost 20 to 34 with Bob Counsellor high scorer with 12 points.

The 8th grade Purple score was 22 to 28 with Wayne Ramsey high point man with 10 points.

The 9th grade Purple lost 28 to 35 with Mike Shaddix and Mark Vaughn high scorers with 7 points each.

The Purple teams will play their next game against Stanton of Hereford at 5 p.m. Monday.

The Bulldogs had 14 turnovers.

McCloud led scoring for the Buffs with 26 points. Lyons scored 12 points; Gayle Rhine, 8 points; Mike Mitchell, 4 points; Blaut, 4 points; Ron Howle, 3 points; Nat Miller, 2 points; and Johnny Burkhalter, 2 points.

David Cole and Gene Muddock played considerable ball but did not score.

The Buffs were to meet Southern Mississippi in the Southern Mississippi tournament at Hattiesburg, Miss., Wednesday night.

Other teams in the tournament are East Tennessee State and Illinois State.

The Buffs play Colorado State College here Dec. 18.

JV Team Defeats Dalhart

Canyon's Junior Varsity basketball team nipped Dalhart 49-47 at Dalhart Tuesday night.

Keith Keeling was high point man for Canyon and Bill Szodloski scored 10 points.

The JV team took fourth in a tournament at Phillips last week end. The JVs beat Spearman 46-36 in the opener, lost to Phillips 55-40 and then lost to Plainview 52 to 39.

Fish Death Rate Slows

The death rate had slowed for fish at Buffalo Lake according to a report Wednesday, however laboratory results from the Bureau of Sports Fisheries and Wildlife Pesticides Laboratory were not available.

The cause of the fish kill will not be known until lab reports are returned. Refuge officials estimated the kill at about 18,000 channel catfish and a few crappie and carp. Northern pike have apparently been unaffected.

sented by Beckman; and 2,260 in Precinct 3 represented by Dowlen.

Majority of Precinct 1 and 4 voters lived in South Amarillo. Registered voters was used as the basis for reapportionment.

Under the Jones resolution as adopted there will be 5,427 registered voters in Precinct 1; 5,376 in Precinct 2; 5,969 in Precinct 3; and 5,863 in Precinct 4.

First commissioners to be affected by the reapportionment will be Beckman and Butler.

Beckman has in effect been mapped out of a job. The Umbarger commissioner, veteran of more than 30 years on the court, comes up for re-election in 1970 as does Butler.

Under the reapportionment provisions there will be no vacancy on the court for which he will be eligible to run. He will be living in Precinct 1 and it will be represented by Fletcher whose term runs until Jan. 1, 1973.

Butler is the only commissioner who will be living in the precinct he represents as of Dec. 17.

Beckman, Dowlen and Fletcher all three will be living in Precinct 1.

Until their terms expire, Beckman and Dowlen will be representing South Amarillo precincts. Dowlen lives in the southeast part of the county and Beckman at Umbarger.

Fletcher lives at Lake Tanglemwood and Butler in South Amarillo. Judge Brown is a resident of Amarillo.

Jones also lives in Amarillo.

Jones presented a prepared resolution Monday calling for reapportionment "to comply with the mandate of the United States Supreme Court as expressed in Avery vs. Midland County, Texas.

Jones read the resolution and then moved that it be accepted. Butler seconded.

Dowlen at first asked for a delay citing a speech by an assistant state attorney general as having stated that the legality of the matter might not be settled before next summer.

"We are operating under misinformation that this thing is settled when it is not," declared Dowlen.

"Redistricting is legal any time," Jones answered, "and it is long overdue."

"It wouldn't be fair to have a commissioner responsible for all the roads," said Dowlen. "Have a unit system," Jones replied.

"They elect that commissioner and the people would look to him," Dowlen countered. "Let them come to the court," said Jones.

Dowlen made an alternate proposal which would have put some of the rural roads in Precincts 2 and 3 and would have left only Precinct 4 without county roads.

Jones insisted that his motion be acted upon and the Dowlen suggestion never was placed officially before the court.

Jones reminded the court that it had promised earlier to act upon redistricting before Jan. 1.

"Personally, I think that we are obligated to comply with the Supreme Court in as far as redistricting," declared Judge Brown in casting the deciding vote.

"I think a unit system would save the county some money."

Dowlen said there is a possibility that the reapportionment may be discussed by the court again after Jan. 1 when Jones, who did not seek re-election, will have left office.

Dowlen was asked if there is such a possibility.

"Yes, there is," he replied.

"I want to study it a while," commented Commissioner-elect Fletcher, who concurred that reapportionment might be discussed again after he takes office.

"I think there is a need for it (reapportionment)," he said. In other business, the court granted a platt to Holiday South addition in North Randall County.

A request from County Veterans Service Officer Rhea Smith that Roland Black be hired to replace the late Roy Price as his assistant was tabled.

Commissioner Beckman cast a dissenting vote on whether to pay $78 for a payroll guide for the office of County Treasurer Ruth Hill. Beckman said he based his dissent on the fact that the court was not consulted on ordering the guide. Motion to pay the item passed over Beckman's no vote.

Mrs. Hill said the service was ordered in 1962 by E. T. Cummings who was then county auditor.

Chili Smith of the Texas Highway Department told the court his department is ready to build another segment of Loop 335 from Washington Street to Interstate 40. He said the state is prepared to begin on the first two lanes of a 4-lane loop.

He said the department will submit to the county a 50-50 working agreement on right of way procurement.

Commissioners accepted a bid of $1,913 for installation of 60 chairs in the court room of the new court house annex which is nearing completion.

The bid, submitted by American Seating Company of Texas, was the only bid received. Contract calls for installation within 75 days after the order is placed.

The court authorized advertising for bids for chairs, furniture and carpet for the new annex.

WT Chorus Performs Contemporary Music

The 185-voice West Texas State University Chorus will present works of two contemporary composers at 8:15 p.m. tonight, Thursday, in the Fine Arts Building auditorium on campus.

Directed by Hugh Sanders, assistant professor of music, the chorus will perform "In Springtime" from Carl Orff's "Carmina Burana" and Norman Dello Joio's "To St. Cecilia", based on a work by John Dryden.

Orff is one of the most widely performed composers of present-day Germany. His music is characterized by strong rhythmic elements and "In Springtime," employs constant alteration of meter with melodic simplicity resembling oriental song.

New York-born Dello Joio's works span a wide scope in style and theme and include television and motion picture scores as well as operatic and choral works.

Accompaniment for the chorus concert will be by pianists, Eileen Moss and Johnlyn Mitchell for the Orff work, and by the WTSU Brass Choir for Dello Joio's work.

men, which met Saturday in the home of Mrs. Cooper. Mrs. Taylor presented a book review at the meeting on "Zinzin Road."

AAUW Reviews 'Zinzin Road'

"The Zinzin Road" was reviewed by Mrs. Larry Taylor at a luncheon meeting of the American Association of University Women, Canyon chapter, Saturday in the home of Mrs. Clay Cooper.

Thirty members were in attendance for the program which was preceded with a covered dish luncheon co-hosted by Mrs. Miguel Tarrab and Mrs. Frank Daugherty.

A brief business session was presided over by Mrs. Cristler Crain, president.

Mrs. George Blackwell introduced Mrs. Taylor, an instructor of Spanish in the Department of Modern Languages at West Texas State University. A native of El Paso, Mrs. Taylor has lived in Japan and Spain and before coming to Canyon, she returned to Spain to study at the University of Madrid.

In her review, Mrs. Taylor stated that "the village of Zinzin is located at the end of some 300 miles of jungle road in the imaginary African country of Kalya. The road is traveled weekly by an idealistic Peace Corps volunteer whose assignment is to deliver supplies to other PC volunteers who live and work with the natives of Zinzin.

"All of the volunteers exhibit cultural shock in varying degrees. The physical discomforts in a strange land ravaged by disease, poverty, ignorance and corruption cause most of the volunteers to count the days and even the hours until their moments of departure. Only the principal character and a handful of others manage to preserve their idealism.

"The Peace Corps volunteers become involved with the villagers in their effort to resist corrupt local officials. This involvement causes ripples in higher governmental circles. The volunteers' sense of personal responsibility to the people of Kalya leads to a violation of the Peace Corps' dictum against participation in political activities.

"The US State Department and Peace Corps Headquarters learn of the volunteers' political intrigues and call upon them to explain their activities to a skeptical US officialdom. To the PCs, the policies of their government seem shortsighted and misguided. They attribute this to a mistaken assumption that any struggle against an anti-communist regime, however corrupt it may be, could only be directed and supported by Moscow or Peking.

In conclusion, Mrs. Taylor said that the author, Fletcher Knebel, portrays the Peace Corps as a partially revolutionary group trying to educate and to bring some sense of community responsibility and pride into the lives of the tribally oriented Africans. He has also authored "Night of Camp David" and was co-author of "Seven Days in May".

Visiting during the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Miller were her father and stepmother, Mr. and Mrs. Garvin Long, and Larry Trevathan of Maple.

Tale of 'Pinocchio' Is Annual Christmas Play

"Pinocchio" will be presented by Eta Iota Cast of Alpha Psi Omega national honorary dramatics fraternity during December as an annual Children's Theatre production.

The Italian fantasy is a tale of how a marionette became a boy and will be presented in a closed school production Friday at Gene Howe Elementary School. It will be presented at Amarillo Little Theatre Saturday at 10:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. in public showings.

Public performances are also set for December 17-18 at 8:15 p.m. in the Branding Iron Theatre of the Fine Arts Building at West Texas State University. Admission for public performances will be $1 for adults, 75 cents for students, 50 cents for university students with ID cards, and 25 cents for elementary students.

The traditional Children's Theatre production will also be presented in a number of closed matinees for students of Rex Reeves Elementary School. The student matinees are not open to the public.

Cast in the Pinocchio production are Raymond Root as Geppetto; Georgia Newell as Figaro; David Gallagher as Jiminy

Cricket; Pam Price as Pinocchio; Linda Davis as the Blue Fairy and Cloetta Fullbright as the understudy; David Schuette as Stromboli; Buster Tieman as J. Worthington Foul Fellow; Miles Medcalf as Gideon; Ken Eastman as Lampwick; Terry Trice as the coachman; and Steve Hilton, Gary Don Smith, Marsha Hilton, Jerry McCoy and Gary Endsley as the Pleasure Island Children.

Rounding out the cast are John King and Pat Lewis as the guards; David Francis and Jerry Woodward as the boys; Hal King as the fish; and Frank Latson, Kathy Busch, Cathey Phillips, David Francis, Nancy Jones and Linda Kerschner as the puppets.

William A. Moore is director and James Kemmerling is designer and technical director. Student directors are Martha Raymond and Richard King; Lee Williams, designer; Bennie Hester, musical director and assistant; Jan Coffman; Bonnie Lou Williams, choreographer; Steve Hunter, vocal coach; Mina McClendon, costumes; Davis Schuette, stage manager and Tyler Tindall, co-ordinator.

Proceeds from the project go to the Alpha Psi Omega scholarship fund, from which two scholarships were given last year on the basis of auditions.

THE PUPPETS from 'Pinocchio' stare in horror as Stromboli (David Schuette) has Pinocchio (Pam Price) locked in prison. Puppets, from left, front, are Cathey Phillips, Kathy Kinney
